INTRODUCTION

It has been our custom each year to base our estimate of the city's population on the official figures given out by the Federal Census Bureau after each decennial census, adding to this the natural growth of the city during the past year, based on the addition of new names in the present edition.

On this basis, Toronto at the end of 1914 had a

POPULATION OF 534,322

The city contains 1,739 streets, and 98,419 buildings of all kinds as shown by the Street Directory, an increase in the latter case of 4,411 over last year. Of these, 6,342 are shown vacant as compared with 3,817 last year, showing an increase of 2,525. These figures include houses and buildings in course of erection.

The Births, Marriages and Deaths in Toronto for the past six years were as follows:
